Conservatives take bold steps to save Queen Elizabeth and Queen Mary Hospitals^[6]

Sunday, 5 February, 2012 - 21:05

Greenwich Conservatives welcomed news, announced on Friday, that the Coalition Government had agreed to provide extra funding to address the crippling debt crisis at South London Healthcare Trust, which includes both Queen Elizabeth and Queen Mary Hospitals. The bail-out is part of a £1.5bn package designed to support hospitals who are struggling to meet Private Finance Initiative (PFI) costs inherited from poor deals signed by the previous Labour Government. The move...

Councillor questions provision for looked after children^[7]

Saturday, 4 February, 2012 - 09:39

At the latest Corporate Parenting Panel, councillors were presented with worrying new data on the educational achievement of looked after children. In 2011 no looked after children who received alternative educational provision achieved 5 A*- C grades at GCSE, in total only 14% of looked after children as a whole in the borough achieved 5 A*- C GCSE grades. The data which became less surprising when data showed that half of the children were not entered for any qualifications. ...
